

Forest Fire Danger Is Still Critical

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dryness, cold weather and wind contributed to a critical forest fire threat in Arkansas today.

Fires were reported near El Dorado and Heber Springs and there were a few scattered fires in East Arkansas.

State Forester Fred Lang said more were expected, especially since people outdoors would be setting "warming fires" because of freezing temperatures. The Forestry Commission put out 33 fires Tuesday after they destroyed 1,017 acres of timber and grass.

Lang said one of the biggest fire hazards came from fires built by school children while waiting for school buses.

Lang said the opening of the deer season (Monday) should have been delayed several days because of dryness. Lang blamed hunters for a fire that burned 500 acres near North Little Rock Monday and flared up again Tuesday and destroyed a barn and a house before it was put out.

One volunteer firefighter was overcome by smoke near North Little Rock, but he was not seriously injured.

Three fires were reported near El Dorado today and one near Heber Springs.

The North Little Rock fire was the biggest one Tuesday.

Other fires were reported near Searcy; Vilonia, 13 miles east of Conway; at Monticello; and Mayflower in Faulkner County.

Strong winds hindered fire-fighting efforts Tuesday. Lang said the Forestry Commission put out 33 fires Monday after they had destroyed 202 acres.

Snow Strikes Sections of the U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Parts of Maine and Michigan lay under coats of snow today and three other states braced for expected snow storms as an aging autumn threw a blustery tantrum.

Houlton, Maine, reported a 5-inch snow fall. In Houghton, Mich., 2 inches were reported.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for northeastern Ohio, northwestern Pennsylvania and extreme western New York with possible accumulations of 4-6 inches or more.

Ligher snowfalls were reported in the West.

In Newport, Ore., nearly an inch fell and a half-inch was reported in western Washington.

Snow flurries occurred in many areas, and measurable rain fell in isolated sections of the East and Midwest.

Northern and central sections had temperatures generally in the 20s to the 40s, with a few readings between 10 and 20 in the Northern Plains.

In the South, the 40s and 50s prevailed with a few 60s in the Deep South.

Cuba Executes 4 Alleged Agents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government announced Monday night it executed four agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. They were convicted of infiltrating Cuba for subversive activities.

The four, tried by a military court Monday, were identified as Antonio Cabelas Rodriguez, Orlando Sanchez Zaraza, Luis Millan Rodriguez and Jose Bolanos Morales.

A government announcement said their assignment was to "draft recruits for CIA activities and convince them to leave Cuba for the United States where they would be trained and infiltrated back into our country." It said they came to Cuba aboard a boat from Florida.

The four, tried by a military court Monday, were identified as Antonio Cabelas Rodriguez, Orlando Sanchez Zaraza, Luis Millan Rodriguez and Jose Bolanos Morales.

Lebanon Revolt Apparently Has Failed

By WEBB MCKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) —

Iraq's Ba'ath Socialist party government apparently battled down a bloody attempt at revolution today believed led by an ousted minister.

After a morning of combat, including jet plane attacks on Baghdad's presidential palace and the Al Rashid military camp, the capital was reported quiet at midday.

Premier Ahmad Hassan El Bakr and Defense Minister Mahdi Saleh Ammash appealed over Baghdad Radio for unity, warned against "Ba'athists killing Ba'athists" and promised "all problems will be solved."

Commanders of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Army Divisions pledged their allegiance to the government.

The leader of the attempted coup appeared to be Ali Saleh El Saadi, until Tuesday the deputy premier, information minister and reputed Ba'athist strongman. He suddenly was dropped from the leadership of the Iraqi Ba'ath party command in a reshuffle announced just before the coup attempt.

A mysterious radio calling itself at times "the radio of the Iraqi revolution" and at times "the voice of the Arab nation" said El Saadi had left Baghdad for Madrid.

Cairo radio said he and several of his Ba'athist supporters had arrived in the Spanish capital by Iraqi military plane.

After a military revolt in Iraq last Feb. 8, Premier Abdel Karim Kassem was executed and a coalition of Ba'ath Socialists and supporters of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic took power.

In April, after a military revolt in Syria brought the

Enthusiasm His Downfall

LOCUST GROVE, Ga. (AP) — A new night policeman's enthusiasm for enforcing traffic laws landed him behind bars today.

The man the folks of this town knew as John Paul—the officer who made more than 100 arrests in a month—is held in lieu of bonds totaling $3,000. The many arrests led to an investigation of Paul's background.

Sheriff Hiram Cook of Henry County said Tuesday that Paul turned out to be John Nick Pavlakos, 21, of Decatur, who was fined $300 for impersonating an officer in Gwinnett County last year.

Double-talk Lets You Put Healing Salve on the Small Vanities of Your Friends

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Now is a good time to pep up on your double-talk.

Double-talk enables you to be honest with yourself while still putting the healing salve of the spoken word on the small vanities of others.

As a guide, here are some examples:

"Darling, that new dress fits you like a glove." And believe me, the glove I had in mind is a catcher's mitt.

"What's a pretty dame like you doing in a joint like this, baby?" The older they are, the better they appreciate this line.

"George, what in heaven's name ever gave you the idea that I thought you were home?" Ugly, yes—but homely, never.

"And now let me show you some interesting color slides Grace and I took of the Grand Canyon way back in 1947." If that won't bore you into going home, I don't know what will.

NEW SCANDAL THREATENED — A new sex scandal threatened to blossom into a lesser version of the Christine Keeler affair which rocked Britain last summer. The sex life of Julia Molley, left, a raven-haired "high priestess of love," found dead of an apparent overdose of drugs in her London home, produced the makings of a new scandal involving wealthy businessmen in London's high society. Blast Shakes Top-Secret U.S. Base

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An explosion involving nuclear material at a top-secret government base shook San Antonio today and knocked out windows more than 10 miles away but apparently caused only minor injuries. Authorities said there was no fear of radioactive contamination.

A. O. Mueller, acting operations officer at the Atomic Energy Commission's Medina base was no fear of radioactive contamination.

Three men working with the explosive ran away in time to avoid serious injury, he said.

The explosion knocked out plate glass windows in several downtown stores, in suburbs miles away and startled secretaries in office buildings.

There were no reports of injuries caused by flying glass when windows fell at schools and stores.

Mueller said nuclear material was involved but declared there was no danger of contamination.

He said there were several thousand tons of TNT in an igloo when the explosion occurred. The reason the workmen escaped, he said, is that the igloo is specially designed so the roof will blow out first in an explosion and funnel the blast skyward.

Freedom Leap Didn't Pan Out

SHEFFIELD, Ala. (AP) — A 40-foot leap to freedom from the second floor of the city jail into a clump of bushes was too much for escapee Sherman Chappell, 40. He turned himself in.

"Come and get me and take me to a doctor," Chappell told approaching officers Monday night. He could hardly move, police said.

He escaped Monday. "I'm getting to old for such tricks," the backscro Chappell lamented.

MOP Wants to Cut Service

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Missouri Pacific Railroad has filed a petition with the Arkansas Commerce Commission for authority to discontinue operation of passenger service between Little Rock and Hot Springs.

The line now runs one train daily between the two cities.

The petition said the large amount of private and public transportation service between the two points had caused a heavy decrease in use of trains.

It claimed the railroad has lost $225,000 since Jan. 1, 1960 in providing the service.

G. L. Ross, 81, of Emmet, Dies on Wednesday

George Lee Ross, aged 81, longtime resident of Emmet, died at his home Wednesday.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence Ross, a son, Scott Ross of Emmet; a brother, Joe Ross of Hope and three sisters, Mrs. Grace McSweeney and Mrs. Mattie Yarbrough of Ajo, Arizona, Mrs. Olevia Norvell of Prescott.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at Emmet Methodist Church by the Rev. Harold Brent. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Snell Cemetery.

Other Woman Testifies in Murder Case

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The dark-haired wife of a truck driver testified today that murder defendant T. Eugene Thompson had dinner and lunch with her several times and once offered her an apartment.

"I told him I was not interested," said Mrs. Jacqueline Olesen, the so-called "other woman" in the case of the St. Paul attorney charged with plotting the slaying of his heavily insured wife.

But Mrs. Olesen later said—clenching her teeth as she answered—that she had met with Thompson after she married her present husband in 1962.

Thompson listened without flinching to the first readily sensational aspects of the trial, now in its third week. He appeared to concentrate on the testimony.

Also testifying was the woman's husband, Ronald, who said he once called the Thompson home and warned he would "get him" if Thompson did not stop seeing his wife.

Mrs. Olesen, mother of three, told of discussing with Thompson a divorce from her former husband. She said she met the defendant first in 1957.

Mrs. Olesen made no reference to nights in motels or trips with Thompson, as charged in the opening statement by prosecutor William Randall.

"He called me at work. He told me he had an apartment building on South Mississippi River Boulevard, that I could have the front apartment. He told me to drive by and look at it."

"I told him I was not interested. I was made. I told him, 'Do you think you can buy anything with money?'"

Thompson, 35, is charged with planning the murder of his 34-year-old wife last March 6.

Randall said "seven important links" will tie Thompson to the slaying—the links including trysts with another woman, insurance, arrangements to remove a telephone and watchdog from the house, and arrangements to "shop" for a killer.

Former Hope Man to Talk at Club Meet

George Hutson of Waco, Texas, and a former resident of Hope who is now a district manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will be the featured speaker at the Hope Business and Professional Women's club meeting on November 14.

Hutson, whose sister is Mrs. Alice Kate Baker also with the telephone company in Hope, is the son of Mrs. Claudia Hutson, 508 South Main Street.

He will speak to the B&PW club on "The Challenge of Leadership."

Hutson spent all of his school days in Hope until he went to Rice University at Houston, Texas. After graduation from Rice he went to work for the telephone company in Houston.

He has worked for the telephone company in Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Dallas before going to Waco in 1949 as a local manager. In 1956 he was made district manager for 23 cities in central Texas.

Hutson is very active in community life in Waco. Currently, he is serving as president of the Heart of Texas Fair Association and is a director of the United Fund, Waco Chamber of Commerce, Texas United Fund, the U.S.O. and is on the advisory board of the United Cancer Society.

He is a past president of the Waco United Fund and a past vice president of the Waco Safety Council and the Waco Chamber of Commerce.

Hutson is a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America and has received many awards for his work in United Fund efforts.

He is married and has two daughters and one son.

Travel Curb Placed on Red UN Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move to curb spying, the United States has put some 11 per cent of the country off limits to envoys of Soviet satellite nations.

In the past, these diplomats were allowed to travel freely. The new orders, explained in diplomatic notes Tuesday, also kept in force travel restrictions on Soviet citizens, although some new areas were opened and others closed.

About 26 per cent of the country is off limits to Russian travelers—and a like percentage of Russia is off limits to American travelers.

The new restrictions—which don't apply to tourists—came after the Defense Department insisted that the travel of various diplomatic representatives of Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria be restricted.

Many of them, defense officials argued, were flagrantly peering about in sensitive military areas and possibly feeding information to Russia whose own envoys are barred from the areas.

The U.S. counties listed as off limits in the notes were carefully selected after several months of argument between the Defense and State departments.

The State Department is understood to have wanted to drop all restrictions on diplomats from the satellites to encourage them to see and understand the United States.

In the past, representatives of Hungary and Romania had to give advance notification of travel beyond Washington and New York, even though there

Senators Who Took Waiter on Junket Return Home on Tailwind of Criticism

By GEOFFREY GOULD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional junketeers who took the headwaiter of the House restaurant with them to Paris and London have flown home early on a tailwind of criticism.

And like their trip, their arrival last night was first class. A fleet of 20 Air Force station wagons and drivers were on hand to chauffeur them home from Andrews Air Force Base, Md. where an Air Force jet landed them.

Also on hand to greet the party—10 congressmen, eight of their wives, two senators' wives and seven staff members—were newsmen and photographers. However, there were reports the newsmen were not entirely welcome.

An Air Force officer who preferred not to be identified said a request had come from the plane that the newsmen and photographers be kept from the landing area.

But a base public information officer said "no effort on to impede any media."

There was not much effort to help either, in efforts to pry loose an official list of those on the trip. But a congressional source said Rep. Wayne L. Hays' hometown aide, Parnell Anderson, Flushing, Ohio, was also one of the party. Hays, an Ohio Democrat, headed the delegation.

After the jet landed, newsmen zeroed in Hays and headwaiter Ernest Petinaud, who Hays said served as a messenger for the delegation in Paris.

With Hays at his side, Petinaud told reporters he saw nothing wrong with his going along to the NATO Parliamentary Conference in Paris.

In Paris, Petinaud had told an interviewer "the only reason congressmen can object to me coming to Europe is that I'm colored."

Hays said he picked Petinaud rather than some congressional staff member because he is a "nice guy and I thought he deserved a break."

When the first waves of criticism reached him in Europe, Hays was quoted as saying "congressmen who made an issue of this are cheap-skates. One of the reasons I chose Ernest for this trip is that he is a Negro."

Petinaud, who said he understands but does not speak French, said he received $27 a day for expenses the days he actually worked as a messenger. Hays said the expenses for the eight-day stay in Paris were paid out of U.S. counterpart funds—foreign credits of the United States which must be spent overseas.

Repeated efforts of a reporter to obtain an official list of all who made the trip ran into a series of stone walls Tuesday, although it was conceded they went at taxpayers' expense in an Air Force plane.

Acquitted of Charge of Rape

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A Pope Circuit Court jury deliberated 1½ hours Tuesday before acquitting James R. Murphy, 33, of Trenton, N.J., on a charge of rape.

He had been charged in the assault of a 17-year-old girl from London in Pope County last July 2. No defense witnesses testified. Murphy had been in jail since July.

U.S. Demands Soviets Release Professor

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler today demanded the immediate release of Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, Yale University professor held by the Russians on spy charges.

The ambassador spent 15 minutes with Valerian Zorin, deputy foreign minister. He also demanded the right to see Barghoorn and to have the charges against him given in detail.

In a brief statement, the embassy said the ambassador "registered a strong protest at the completely unwarranted arrest and detention of Prof. Barghoorn and the unjustified long period of time between his arrest and notification of the American Embassy by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs."

The Foreign Ministry announced the arrest of the visiting professor Tuesday, said it took place several days ago but gave no other information.

"The ambassador demanded immediate access to Prof. Barghoorn and requested his release forthwith," the statement continued.

Barghoorn, professor of political science at Yale, has written a number of books critical of the Soviet system and was here on a tourist visa preparing to write a further book.

He was last seen by an embassy official on Oct. 31 when he came for drinks to the apartment of Walter Stoessel, minister counselor in the embassy. At that time he said he expected to leave the Soviet Union the following day.

Earlier, the embassy issued a statement saying Stoessel had protested the arrest to Mikhail Smirnovsky, chief of the American section of the Foreign Office.

San Francisco Cliff House Hit by Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A five-alarm fire destroyed part of San Francisco's Cliff House complex Tuesday night, but spared the famed restaurant itself.

Eighteen firemen were injured fighting the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $1 million by Fire Chief William Murray.

The flames destroyed a three-story museum—cramped with relics of the California goldrush days and other historic events of the West—a hot dog stand, a gift shop and coffee shop.

Eighteen fire trucks fought the blaze which shot flames more than 100 feet into the air at times. The fire raged out of control for more than two hours. Firemen were hampered by lack of hose outlets.

Murray said faulty wiring in the museum's sub-basement may have started the fire.

One fireman suffered a fractured shoulder. The others were overcome by smoke.

Hoodlums in the crowd of more than 15,000 were responsible for two injured policemen. They hurled stones at the officers as policemen attempted to clear the area. Both officers suffered fractured hands, police said.

Witnesses swarmed the beach beneath the cliffside structure, sat atop neighboring hills and streamed out of nearby amusement park.

The restaurant, perched precariously on a rock cliff on the Pacific's shore northwest of downtown San Francisco, burned down twice in the past.

Negro-White Couple Plans to Return

MEMPHIS (AP)—"I married the man I love. I feel wonderful."

That, said the former Miss Ruth Buffington, Pine Bluff, Negro, is how she feels about her marriage to the white man she met while they were working together to desegregate public places in Pine Bluff.

Both the 20-year-old bride and her 24-year-old husband, William W. Hansen Jr., are paid field workers for the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee.

Mrs. Hansen, visiting her mother here, and Hansen were married Oct. 12 in Cincinnati. He announced it last Sunday.

"We both knew it was illegal for us to get married in Arkansas, so we decided to marry in Cincinnati, his home town," she said. "We had a church wedding and reception. His friends were there, and people from CORE and NAACP. We stayed three or four days and returned to Pine Bluff."

Asked whether Hansen's parents opposed the wedding, she replied: "I don't know. I didn't see them when I was there. They didn't attend the wedding."

Mrs. Hansen said she will return to Pine Bluff Thursday or Friday.

"We haven't had any trouble yet," she said. "Most of the Negroes in Pine Bluff know about our marriage. I don't know what will happen when I get back, but I don't expect any trouble."

Mrs. Hansen said she met her husband in January 1962, after he arrived in Pine Bluff to help direct the desegregation movement.

"He started the sit-in demonstrations and I joined in. 'I was kicked out of college but we didn't give up the sit-ins.'"

She said Hansen proposed to her after she returned from the "Freedom March" on Washington last August.

Her answer, she said, was yes because "I knew I was in love with him — very definitely."

Opposes Use of Negroes in Athletics

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he would oppose use of Negroes on athletic teams at the University of Arkansas.

Faubus made the statement when asked at a news conference for reaction to a decision by the University of Texas Board of Regents to allow Negroes to compete at Texas.

Faubus first said he "would not be for" letting Negroes compete at Arkansas, then he said he would be against it.

Asked how vigorously he would oppose such a move, Faubus said, "I've probably said enough at the present time."

He was pressed to say what he might do if the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees takes action similar to that of the Texas board, but he declined as he usually does to answer the hypothetical question.

The question about Negroes in athletics led to a request for Faubus' reaction to the announcement of the marriage of a white integration leader at Pine Bluff to a Negro co-ed.

"That's the inevitable result of integration," Faubus said, and he launched into a discussion of his philosophies on the race issue.

"This is a pretty good place to say, 'I told you so,'" Faubus said.

"It's inevitable, inevitable. There are some who favor integration to a certain point and then stop," Faubus said. "But the hard, difficult and unpleasant fact is that you can't stop."

Faubus was asked whether he felt the marriage of William Hansen, the Pine Bluff integration leader, to Ruth Buffington would help or hurt the case of integration in Arkansas.

"The cause of integration in Arkansas is not making many advances," Faubus said. "It is only by compulsion of the federal government that we have integration and that is not real progress."

"The only way to complete integration is by a police state, so we either progress to a police state or we reverse the trend and, when it's reversed, the so-called progress in integration will cease."

DOLLS REFLECTS MATERIALISTIC CULTURE

Hardly a Christmas season passes without certain of those engaged in the manufacture of editorials becoming alarmed over the trends in toy-making. With that preface and aware that there are only 41 shopping days left before Christmas, we note certain developments in the toys that seem unnatural to say the least.

As exhibit one we cite the decline of the simple doll. In their place has come a sophisticated creature that laughs, cries, talks, walks, takes milk from a bottle and even dampens diapers.

But dolls are not always babies nowadays. A whole new crop of dolls have become teenagers complete with boy-friends, girl-friends, Paris-inspired wardrobes, their "own" sport car, houses, swimming pools, etc. All this, no doubt, is a reflection of our materialistic times where even dolls must acquire status.

We're old-fashioned enough, however, to cling to the notion that little girls are developing healthier attitudes playing "mommy" to a simple doll rather than arranging dates and sports car rides for teenagers. As exhibit two, we cite the appearance of the mechanical ballerina which hardly seems to us the type toy likely to generate healthy attitudes in junior-Florence (S.C.) Morning News

Ba'ath to power there, Iraq, Syria and the U.A.R. agreed to merge in a new United Arab Republic. But pro-Nasser elements in Baghdad were noticeably absent from the meeting.

In April, after a military revolt in Syria brought the Ba'ath to power there, Iraq, Syria and the U.A.R. agreed to merge in a new United Arab Republic. But pro-Nasser elements in Iraq lost out to the Ba'ath in a power struggle last May, and unity plans were shelved.

The Ba'athist regimes in Iraq and Syria have drawn steadily closer together ever since and have been making plans for full union of their neighboring countries without Nasser's U.A.R.

A dispatch from Beirut which made no mention of any trouble in Iraq, said that Baghdad Radio early today had announced the election of a new 15-man regional command for the Ba'ath party in Iraq.

Heading the list of the new party leadership was Premier Bakr.

Notably absent from the party command was Deputy Premier Ali Saleh El Saadi, described in the past as a Ba'ath strongman and chief organizer of the party in Iraq.

fice, and asked for all details. Stoessel repeated the request made Tuesday by Consul Thomas Fain to see Barghoorn immediately.

"The answer of the Foreign Ministry representative was that no details would be provided at the present time, but the request would be passed along," the statement said.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry informed the embassy Tuesday that Barghoorn, author of several books about Russia, had been arrested for espionage during a month's visit here as a tourist.

A high-ranking U.S. source in Washington said the arrest of the 52-year-old specialist on Russia cast a cloud over negotiations on U.S.-Soviet cultural exchanges which are to start in Moscow next Tuesday.

Little Rock Hires Sewage Expert

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The City of Little Rock has hired engineers to determine how the 30 per cent of the city's sewage that goes into the Arkansas River should be treated.

T. Wilson Clapham, manager of the city sewer department, said the study probably will be completed next spring.

Federal agencies have urged cities not to dump sewage into the river, which is being made navigable. The remaining 70 per cent of Little Rock sewage is treated at a $2 million plant east of the municipal airport.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—While 4,000 music lovers waited, Pablo Casals paced backstage, stage hands scurried about and police sounded an SOS.

Casals, who was to conduct the New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony in his Horatio, "El Pessierbe," arrived at the hall without his score.

After 15 minutes, the 86-year-old master of the cello began the concert using an unmarked score.

But cab driver Ralph W. Swafford had heard the police alarm. He rushed to the hall and delivered the score, which Casals had left in the cab.

DETROIT (AP) — Methodist Bishop Herbert Welch of New York, who was 101 years old last week, offers the "Welch quadrilateral law of longevity" for living to a ripe old age:

"First, moderation in work whenever circumstances permit; second, a prohibition of worry; third, a little play; and fourth and most important, a rust in God."

Gear Shift Too Much for Thieves

By BERNIE GOULD Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The bandits who pulled off Manhattan's $3-million jewel robbery apparently netted not one carat. A group of construction workers found the stolen gems in a hijacked car and, police said, it was like playing "grab bag" in King Solomon's Mines.

No one may profit from the biggest jewel theft in the nation's history. Chalk that up to an incompetent getaway driver and a big mouth.

Five construction men were arrested Tuesday night. Police said they recovered about a quarter-million dollars worth of the loot from the five. Some of it was buried on a Gettysburg, Pa., farm only about a mile from where former President Eisenhower lives.

With that find, police announced that 90 per cent of the treasure had been recovered. They continued to question other construction workers today in hope of finding the remaining 10 per cent.

Still at large are the bungling bandits, who had to abandon their loot-laden car only a block away from the robbery scene. It kept stalling because the driver could not cope with its old-style floor shift, police said.

The car, hijacked from a jewelry messenger service in midtown Manhattan last Friday, was found by police several hours later. But much of the loot had disappeared.

Police gave this account: The bandit driver, dressed in a policeman's uniform, got as far as a demolition site on west 41st Street when the station wagon refused to help him start the car.

The worker refused, apparently relishing the sight of a "policeman" caught in such a predicament. The frustrated bandit fled.

The construction man, Philip Rossi, 31, then drove the car onto the demolition site. He discovered the jewels and gold bars, called fellow demolition men over and, as police described it, a "grab bag" game followed.

Officers said Walter Cunningham, 61, took $8,000 in jewels to his Pennsylvania vacation retreat and buried them in a lard can.

Monday night, a construction worker boasted in a bar about the windfall in jewels. An eavesdropper tipped police.

At about the same time, another construction worker told a private detective that he had seen one bandit unload a briefcase in a boiler at the demolition site. The detective found the jewel-laden briefcase and called police.

Officers searched the site further Tuesday and found still more jewels.

Rep. Harris Is Commended

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce received the 1963 Presidential Citation of the American Public Health Association Tuesday night.

The citation said Harris had "authorized and skillfully guided to enactment several laws of major consequence to our public health and medical programs."

It said they included amendments to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act; the Research Facilities Construction Act; the Mass Vaccination Assistance Act; the Migrant Health Grants; the establishment of the National Institute of Child Health; the Community Health Services and Facilities Act; and the Community Mental Health Centers and Mental Retardation Act.

"Full-throttle" acceleration tests like this help Shell scientists measure effects of harmful combustion deposits on power. Read below how Super Shell fights these deposits—to help give you power when you need it.

How TCP, one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients, fights two kinds of engine trouble to give you power when you need it

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd work fine without Super Shell's TCP.* But combustion deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut your power and mileage.

Nothing can be done to stop these deposits from forming. But fortunately, something can be done to fight some of the troubles they lead to. And Super Shell's TCP is the ingredient that does it.

How TCP fights pre-ignition

When certain types of combustion chamber deposits get hot enough, they glow—can beat spark plugs to the punch and ignite your fuel before it's supposed to be ignited.

The experts call this pre-ignition. A premature explosion punches the piston on its way up. Two forces meet head on. And your power falls off.

Usually, pre-ignition comes when your engine is working hardest—when you're trying to pass at turnpike speeds, for instance. And just when you need power most, it falls off.

Super Shell's TCP fights pre-ignition by actually altering the chemical nature of combustion deposits. It "fire-proofs" them so they no longer glow. And your chances of pre-ignition go way down.

How TCP fights spark plug misfire

Combustion deposits can also build up on spark plugs and cause spark plug misfire. When engine temperatures go up, these deposits tend to conduct electricity—can actually short-circuit your plugs and take them right out of the act.

Your spark plugs miss—they don't ignite the fuel. And instead of purring smoothly, your engine sputters and falters—loses power and wastes gasoline.

Once again, Super Shell's TCP works by changing the chemical nature of the deposits. It helps keep them from conducting electricity and short-circuiting your spark plugs. Result: Your spark plugs fire the way they should—to help you get power when you need it.

And that's how Super Shell's TCP works to make your car work better.

Super Shell has 9 working ingredients to make your car work better

But TCP is only one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients. Here's a brief rundown on the other eight—and what they do to help Super Shell make your car work better.

Platformate and cat-cracked gasoline work for extra mileage and smooth power.

Anti-knock mix and Alkylate work to fight knock for a quiet engine.

Butane and Pentane mix work to give fast starts and smooth warm-ups.

Cum preventive and anti-icer (added in cold weather) work to keep carburetors clean inside and to help check icing stalls.

For power when you need it, stop at this clean white Super Shell pump. Super Shell, with nine working ingredients, also helps you get good mileage and a smooth-running engine.

*Trademark for Shell's gasoline additive for ignition control. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2880212.

Life-Sustaining Space Ship Seen

NEW DELHI (AP) — Soviet Cosmonaut Andrian Nikolayev says the Soviet Union is planning a spaceship that will sustain life in outer space for three years—the estimated time required for a round trip to Mars or Venus.

He said manned planetary space flights entail untold amounts of research.

Nikolayev told scientists at the Indian National Physical Laboratory Monday that the round trip would actually take 14 months, but spacemen would have to spend almost two years on the planets to wait for a proper orbital position for the return flight.

Nikolayev is visiting India with his bride spacewoman Valentina Tereshkova.

Elvis Gets Fair Sum for a Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Look—I'm a Woolworth guy, not a Tiffany man," said Sam Katzman, explaining his worried look.

What made Sam worried? The master of the quickie was shooting an Elvis Presley picture for $1,700,000.

"A lot of money," he said, shaking his bald head. "Elvis himself costs $500,000, plus $100,000 studio overhead on his salary—don't ask me why. Then you've got $300,000 to $400,000 overhead on production costs, which means I got to make the picture for $700,000. Listen, I can do it."

Sam was sitting hard by the set of "Kissin' Cousins."

"I'm here from the first shot in the morning until the last one at night," he explained. "Got to keep things moving along. Okay, let's shoot it!"

He shouted the last suggestion to the film crew, and director Gene Nelson lined up a shot of Elvis—playing a dual role in a blonde wig—and a flock of curvy mountain girls.

"See that forest scene," said Sam. "Most producers would have shot it on location, where they'd run into bad weather and sit around all day. Me, I shoot a week at Lake Arrowhead and the rest here at the studio, where I can control things."

She received messages from the children who were absent, and many nice gifts were also sent.

Girl Scout Troop 117 Meets

Girls Scout Troop 117 met November 5 at the home of Mrs. Jack Gardner. A program was given by the scouts with the flag ceremony and the girls lit candles after giving her part on the program.

Each of the girls brought money for "dimes or daisy", a fund honoring Juliet Gordon Low, the founder of Girl Scouts. The Senior Girl Scout Troop and leader were guests.

Hinton HD Club Meets

The Hinton Home Demonstration Club met Monday, November 11, in the home of Mrs. Stella Bearden.

Mrs. Lillie Gibson called the meeting to order. Mrs. Edythe Rider gave the eye-opener "Feathering Magnolia Leaves". The song "Little Brown Church in the Vale" was sung by the ladies.

Mrs. Rosie Elledge read the devotional. Prayer was by Mrs. Nedra Kent. Lessons on cake making was delivered by Mrs. Helen Hollis.

Twelve members and three visitors answered the roll call by telling, "my problems with cakes." Mrs. McGowan won the door prize, and Mrs. Ralph Holbert won the surprise package. The Triple A 4-H club was discussed by telling ways to help them raise funds. Mrs. Nedra Kent gave an interesting talk on the children at the colony at Conway. Mrs. Stella served cake, cookies, coffee and she-berry. The meeting for December will be in the home of Mrs. Hubbard.

Poppy Sales Netted Girls Over $140

Peggy King

Peggy King was the winner of the Poppy Queen contest on the recent American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Day because she was the leading sales-lady with a total of $31.66 collected. Kitty Reeves, Miss Poppy, was runner-up with $16.78 collected.

Total collections were $140.37 with 12 junior members bringing in $99.35. Junior members participating included Janey Seaman, Junanne Reynolds, Cathy Field, Marla Jones, Vicki Reeves, Pam Faris, Sharon Faris, Sharon Frith, and Susan Rogers.

Assisting the junior members were Mrs. Frank King, Unit 12 President, Mrs. Joe Jones, junior activities chairman, Mrs. Inez Compton, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Cecil Weaver, Mrs. E. S. Franklin, and Mrs. Mamie Gentry.

Many Panel Shows on Networks

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television is devoting 40 hours per week to game shows, panel shows and audience participation shows.

That is much more time than is devoted to any other single category. Within a couple of months the time will be increased by another hour.

NBC is undisputed champ, with nine such programs for a total of four and one-half hours a day five days a week.

And it soon will add an evening, once-a-week edition to its schedule when "You Don't Say," an afternoon fixture, expands to replace the canceled, "Redigo," a Western.

ABC is second in fun-and-games with four day-time shows and two evening programs.

CBS has only two daily shows, but each of these has a once-a-week evening program as well, plus the perennial nighttime "What's My Line?", but its total will increase after the first of the year when it adds "Alumni Fun" to its Sunday afternoon schedule.

"Alumni Fun," apparently, is a late replacement for "College Bowl," the sprightly quiz show featuring teams of bright college students that moved to NBC this season. The new CBS show matches teams of well-known old grads.

If the viewers wonder about network enthusiasm for games and panels, there's a simple explanation: They are inexpensive and they usually draw good audiences.

NBC reports that Sunday night's experimental special, "That Was The Week That Was," satirizing current events, drew a record 639 telephone calls at its New York headquarters, including some from as far away as Florida and Texas.

Mrs. Katherine Cole, who has charge of listener calls and letters, said 406 callers approved, calling the program "new" and "brilliant."

The other 233 calls were disapproving, with viewers protesting they thought it bad taste to poke fun at the President and the clergy.

CBS, unhappy about some trouble spots in its schedule, is trying to make some emergency repairs.

Starting Saturday, it will move the faltering "Phil Silvers Show" into a later spot and return the award-winning "Defenders" to its old 8:30-9:30 (EST) spot.

Some thought also is going and a half weeks and we finish tomorrow," the producer explained. "We're two hours behind schedule, and I'm worried. Let's get moving!"

Katzman gave some hints of his operation between verbal nudges to the film crew.

"I keep an eye on all the record charts," he said. "Rock 'n' roll, the twist—that's my meat. 'Rock Around the Clock' was a good one; made it for $300,000 and it grossed $4 million."

Nixon Can't Be Counted Out of Race

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has stopped for short of eliminating himself from consideration as the Republican party's choice for the presidential nomination.

He could do it in one, simple, positive sentence: "I am not a candidate for the presidential nomination and I will not accept it if the convention offers it to me or tries to draft me."

Instead, he has limited himself to saying he is not a candidate for the nomination, which can be interpreted as saying he will not actively campaign for it between now and the 1964 convention.

That's a long way from saying he would not accept the nomination or like to have it. Last month in an interview the magazine U.S. News & World Report asked him the question directly: Would he accept the nomination if drafted?

He said: "I shall not be a candidate in '64—and that answers all questions of that type...there can be no draft unless a man stimulates it or encourages it...my statement that I shall not be a candidate means there can be no draft."

It does not necessarily mean any such thing. The fact that he did not actively seek the nomination does not prevent the convention, if deadlocked on others, from seeking a way out by turning to him.

While he said he is not a candidate, he has been urging Republicans in all sections of the country not to commit themselves yet to any would-be candidates. His reason is said to be: It's too soon to know what will happen.

As of now there are only two candidates in sight: New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater. Rockefeller has already announced his candidacy. Goldwater is expected to in January.

And — both men have said they thought Nixon was acting like a candidate.

One month ago Nixon said he hoped there would be nothing on the record between then and the convention to indicate he favored one candidate over another.

While such reticence would avoid adding splits in the Republican party, it would also avoid making enemies for him among the followers of the candidate in case the convention fiinto the possibility of moving "The Judy Garland Show" to "break up a solid two-hour block of variety entertainment, starting with Ed Sullivan's hour on Sunday nights.

Conway Political Probe Is Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus promised a Conway County delegation Tuesday that he would look into the county political situation.

Gene Wirges, publisher of the Morrilton Democrat, which has waged a running battle with county political leaders, headed the delegation.

Faubus said he was glad the group came to him, and that he would be "on the side of right, regardless of friendship, political loyalty or affiliation."

Conway County has consistently been pro-Faubus. Wirges alleged absentee voter violations in the county, Faubus took notes, and said he would send Wirges a letter stating his findings and conclusions.

nally did turn to him.

Monday in Miami editors representing a cross-section of the nation's daily newspapers said they feel Nixon will be the Republican candidate against President Kennedy, but that Kennedy will beat him again as he did in 1960.

Fifty editors, in Miami for the annual Associated Press managing editors meeting today, were quizzed by the Miami Herald and 26 of them picked Nixon as the Republicans' choice.

Goldwater got 12 votes. The rest went to Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney. The editors stressed that their selections were based on judgment and not on their political preference.

Former President Eisenhower, in a Sunday television interview, said Nixon would be one of those definitely considered for the nomination if the convention deadlocks.

Nixon, asked about this, said he could conceive of "no circumstances whatever" under which he would be a candidate for the nomination. This was just repeating what he had said before.

But Eisenhower didn't say Nixon would be a candidate, but that a deadlocked convention might turn to him.

But, for a man not seeking the nomination, Nixon has been talking a lot. He explains that, too.

"At this time I believe I can best serve both the Republican party and the nation as an independent, constructive critic of the (Kennedy) administration policies rather than as a candidate."

This does have some advantages, of course, just in case the party in the end wanted to pick him.

In speeches against the administration he would be talking pretty much on the same issues as the candidate, thus providing a chance for comparison between him and them.

And it's a very recent way to stay in the public eye, particularly the Republican eye.

SHOULD COUPLE MOVE IN WITH PARENTS?

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Because of high rents and financial difficulties, my husband and I have agreed to move in with his parents. Their house is large and we shall be given a separate room in which to entertain. My husband will also be able to complete his education. I get along well with his mother but am worried about the effect she will have on the children and me as time goes on.

She mopes around with a long, sad face and is forever sighing or moaning about some new ache or pain. Aside from a few close friends she dislikes company. If we mention her frequent illnesses, she becomes quite indignant and says her health is as good as the next person's. After any lengthy visit with her I leave depressed.

Should I just forget about moving in with her or is there some way I could go (it means a lot to us financially) and at the same time help her to be more cheerful? She's very good to me. All she wants in return is sympathy and pity. My father-in-law is away a lot, does not seem conscious of her complaints, or else ignores them. —Worried

Dear Worried: Moving in with in-laws is usually a wrong move for everyone involved, especially when the reason for the move is financial. You sound fond of your mother-in-law in spite of the picture you paint. I fear that the depression you now fear will become chronic, and you will blame her instead of yourself once you make this move.

Giving her the sympathy she craves is far easier from a distance. If she creates unhappiness now, what will it be when you are all under the same roof? The tension that seems almost bound to develop is hardly worth the money you save.

Discuss the change with your husband, and then openly with your in-laws, and whatever conclusion you come to, work hard to keep your respect for your mother-in-law and hers for you. Don't accept her help and then complain.

From your letter, there seems

Final Income Payment Due

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mid-night Friday is the deadline for 20,000 Arkansas taxpayers who make a split payment of their state income tax to pay the second installment.

Income tax collections are running $2 million ahead of this time last year, Bearden said.

to be the possibility of a genuine friendship between you two. If you can sustain such a friendship living in the same house, more power to you both. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflets, "Mother-in-Law" and "Daughter-in-Law."

Dear Helen: I overplayed my hand in dating the boy next door, being the first girl he has ever taken out. Like a ninny I kept on asking him back the next day every time he said goodnight. Never one did he even kiss me goodby. Is it the boy or the girl who takes the first step? He has stopped calling. Should I have given him a kiss? —Heartbroken

Dear Heartbroken: Let the boy take the initiative. He needs to go out with other girls before he knows what to do. Chances are you may get together again after you have both dated others.

Dear Helen: A dear cousin of mine is being accused by some wife of husband-snatching. I know this to be untrue for this cousin is deeply in love with her own husband. The crazy wife claims she has witnessed and will subpoena my cousin into court. That wife is lying to get her divorce. My cousin's husband and family believe in her. What can she do? How can people like that wife be so mean? —Upset

Dear Upset: Your cousin has already done what can be done. Relax. It is unlikely this woman can bring the case to court, or that she intends to. What she wants, probably, is attention. What she needs, from your account of the situation, is medical attention. Venom such as she exhibits is symptomatic of a mental or physical disturbance.

As long as her accusations are false, there is no need for you or your cousin to be upset. But should she persist, your cousin had better consult a lawyer.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hoffa Loses Another Court Round

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters' Union president, today lost in an effort to have the Supreme Court block his trial in Nashville, Tenn., on jury tampering charges.

The high tribunal rejected a petition by Hoffa asking review of his unsuccessful moves to have the trial transferred to a U.S. District Court other than the one in Nashville.

Hoffa's legal moves included a charge that the grand jury that indicted him was illegally constituted and impaneled. He further asked dismissal of the indictment on a contention that government attorneys made unauthorized disclosures of grand jury minutes to FBI agents.

The Supreme Court made no comment about Hoffa's petition. It noted that Justice Goldberg, the former secretary of labor, had disqualified himself from considering the petition.

Burglars Loot Hot Springs Store

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Burglars took $15,000 worth of merchandise from the Pfeifers of Arkansas department store on Central Ave. Monday night or early today.

Police Detective Jack Harvey said two persons had been picked up for questioning today and a third was sought.

Harvey said the burglars used the same method of operation as those who took $6,500 worth of goods from a Russellville men's store early last Saturday.

They broke open front doors with a lock wrench and left through the back door.

Merchandise taken included 100 suits, 100 women's coats and 100 dresses, all of them in the higher-priced category.

No arrests have been made in the Russellville burglary. Jess Rosenwasser, manager of the Pfeifers store, made the loss estimate.

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

By Adeline McElfresh

[Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. © 1960 Adeline McElfresh]

THE STORY: Dr. Peter McDonald has shown Ann where he plans to build a house. Ann thinks she loves Dr. McDonald. When they return to the hospital, there is an emergency.

XV

Peter ran for the stairs, disappeared up them three at a time, much faster than the lethargic old elevator could have taken him. Ann followed in the elevator.

Even before she reached the double glass doors with Obstetrics printed in square black letters on each of them Ann knew that something was dreadfully wrong. Dr. Mabis was there, and Dave Clyde, and Dr. Conrad, who had an office in Ledbie. Peter, his face ashen, drawn, came out of a room to join them as she approached.

"What happened?" His voice was haunted too. "He was such a perfect baby! It's hard to believe." He saw her then, said, "Ann—"

She touched his arm understandingly. "I'm very sorry, Peter."

His hand closed over hers, for only a moment but long enough to transmit some of the numb misery he was feeling.

"I'll go tell Mrs. Morris." His grayish blue eyes were as tortured as his voice was. "Ann—"

"I'll come with you Peter," she answered the unspoken plea. "I'll come with you because Ledbie Memorial is my hospital too. The realization was there, suddenly. The knowledge that her decision was made."

"Peter, Ann," Dr. Mabis said, too quiet, bone - wearily, as they started. "There's something you should know first."

The deep breath was troubled, and Ann, sensing that, felt a stab of apprehension. The old doctor went on slowly, as if dreading each word he was about to utter. "There is every indication that baby died in a narcotics - withdrawal seizure, and I'm wondering how Em Lyle is going to explain that."

Shock and anger and pity were convoluting in Ann's mind. "Withdrawal seizure," Dr. Mabis's words were a bitter requiem.

How could that woman not have known what she was doing to her baby? And how could she, knowing what had happened as a result, deny being an addict? The questions were tormenting her as they must be tormenting Peter. Then Ann was back in o.b. beside Peter as they walked into Mrs. Morris's room. "Company! How nice!" she had greeted them gaily. "If that is my offspring I've heard shrieking, a pin must have been sticking in him."

"Mrs. Morris," Dr. McDonald had begun, and stopped.

The woman's too bright smile faded. "Dr. McDonald, the baby is - dead, isn't he?"

Ann's heart wrenched as Peter nodded.

"What - was it?" Dry, bright eyes squinted tight, but only for a moment before she asked, "Doctor, it - wasn't because I - didn't want him, was it?"

Peter asked gently, "Didn't you?"

She didn't answer him. "Please! You've got to tell me! I heard him crying and I knew something was wrong - he sounded too - funny -"

Yes, Ann thought. Abnormally high-pitched. And sometimes not crying, but gasping, grunting, stopping breathing altogether for instants, his little arms and legs twitching, his plump - cheeked face, sturdy chest, even his abdomen where the navel binder didn't cover it, glistening with perspiration . . . she had seen a baby writhing in the agonies of narcotics withdrawal once when she was intern, every shred of his tiny being crying out for the drug he was no longer getting every time his mother gave herself an injection.

"Don't worry about me, Doctor. I can take it." A hard little smile touched the woman's mouth. "I should be thanking you! I didn't want the kid."

"Mrs. Morris, are you an addict?" Ann was startled at the change in Dr. McDonald, at the harshness, the cold anger that was in him.

"Of babies?" She was laughing at him.

Dr. McDonald said sternly, "You know what I'm talking about."

How could a person be so - so unfeeling? Here was a woman who was glad her baby was dead. No wonder Dr. Mabis's thoughts were lost in the darkness that mureuried the window and threw his reflection back at him.

The door opened. Dr. Emerson Lyle paused just long enough to make it an entrance. "The baby died in a withdrawal convulsion, Em."

Peter's voice was level. "He might not have if you had taken us into your confidence."

Boiler Blast on Steamship

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — The steamship Hercules Victory reported today one of her boilers had exploded and the other was afire.

She asked ships in the area. 330 miles northeast of Bermuda, to stand by.

The Coast Guard sent the cutter Yakuta and an amphibian airplane to the assistance of the 7,602-gross ton ship.

The ship is owned by Hercules Steamship Corp. and managed by Ocean Carages Inc., of New York.

More Tests of Accused Slayer Out

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Supreme Court today blocked further mental tests for Byron de la Backwith and ordered him transferred back to jail here to stand trial for the murder of civil rights leader Medgar Evers.

By a 6-3 vote, the court held that Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick of Jackson had exceeded his authority in ordering pre-trial sanity tests for Beckwith on motion of

Thinks Texas Will Just Keep Rolling Along

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Somebody last weekend didn't appreciate the 28-14 defeat of Texas Christian by Louisiana State and so Coach Abe Martin was hung in effigy.

This is a reminder that if you don't like these selections, your effigy for hanging must be a minimum of 6-feet-7.

Last week there were 11 reasons for hanging but there also were 46 correct guesses for a .807 average. That lifted the season's total to 313 right, 108 wrong and an average of .755.

This week's picks: Texas over Texas Christian: Coach Martin's necktie party might inspire the Frogs to repeat their upset of several years ago but Texas always seems to come up with the required points at the right time, and so the Longhorns will stay at the top of the heap.

Navy over Duke: Roger Staubach will get more help from his Middle teammates than Jay Wilkinson will get from the other Dukes.

Mississippi over Tennessee: Nothing has stopped the Mississippi Rebels since that opening shocker with Memphis State.

Michigan State over Notre Dame: Sherm Lewis is tiny but he also is very, very good.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Missourians are handicapped by the lack of a consistent offense.

Pittsburgh over Army: The Pitt slogan is "Dial M for Murder." It refers to the Panthers' own version of the M&M—Paul Martin and Fred Mazurek.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: The Crimson Tide has had two weeks to get ready for the duel with Billy Lothridge and his playmates. All the Alabama wounded have had time to heal.

Illinois over Wisconsin: The Badgers have two quarterbacks, Hal Brandt and Dave Fronek, but no heavy siege gun as the Illini's Jim Grabowski. Illinois needs this one to stay in the Big Ten title race.

Auburn over Georgia: Jimmy Stille, the Auburn speedster, was deposited last week as the country's leading rusher. Here's his chance to climb to the top again.

Nebraska over Oklahoma State: Denis Claridge is too much for the Oklahoma Cowboys.

Southern California over Oregon State: By a touchdown at least.

Ohio State over Northwestern: The Buckeyes rarely throw the ball and usually see to it that their opponents don't either.

North Carolina over Miami: The Hurricanes' attack is a one-man affair and it has been proven that George Mira can be stopped.

Washington over UCLA: The Huskies' Bill Douglas is an A student — Both on and off the football field.

Race Track Riot Is Under Probe

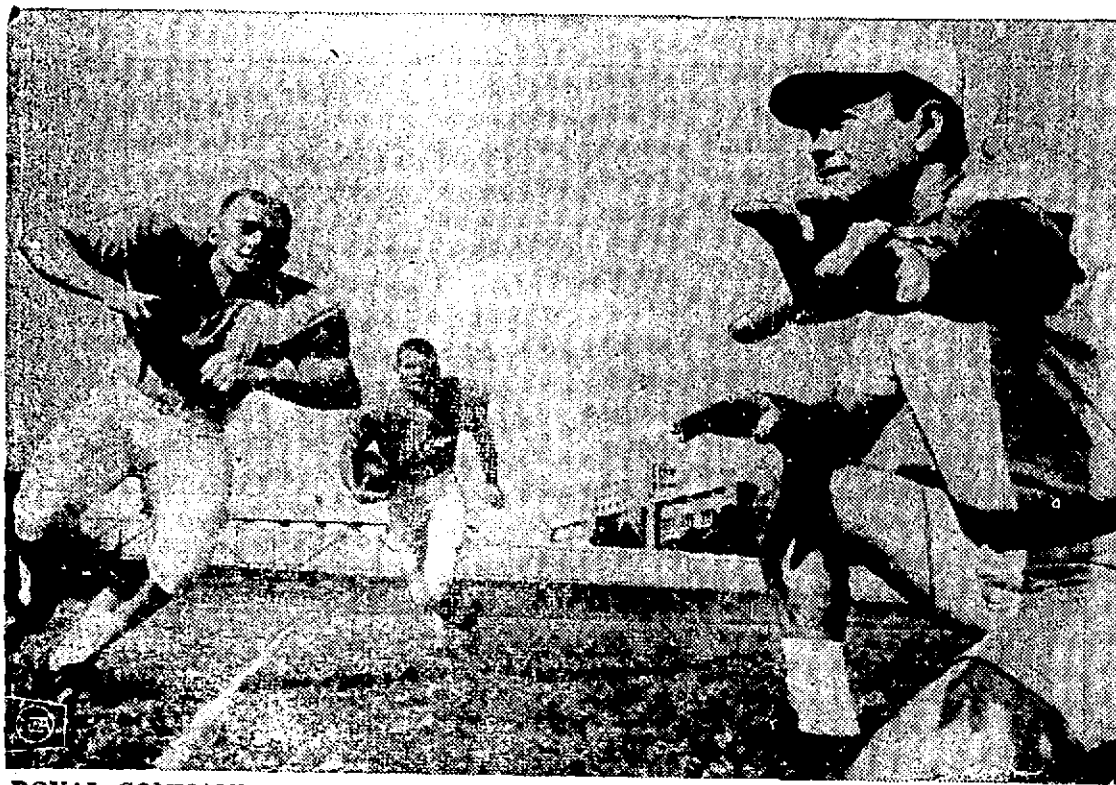

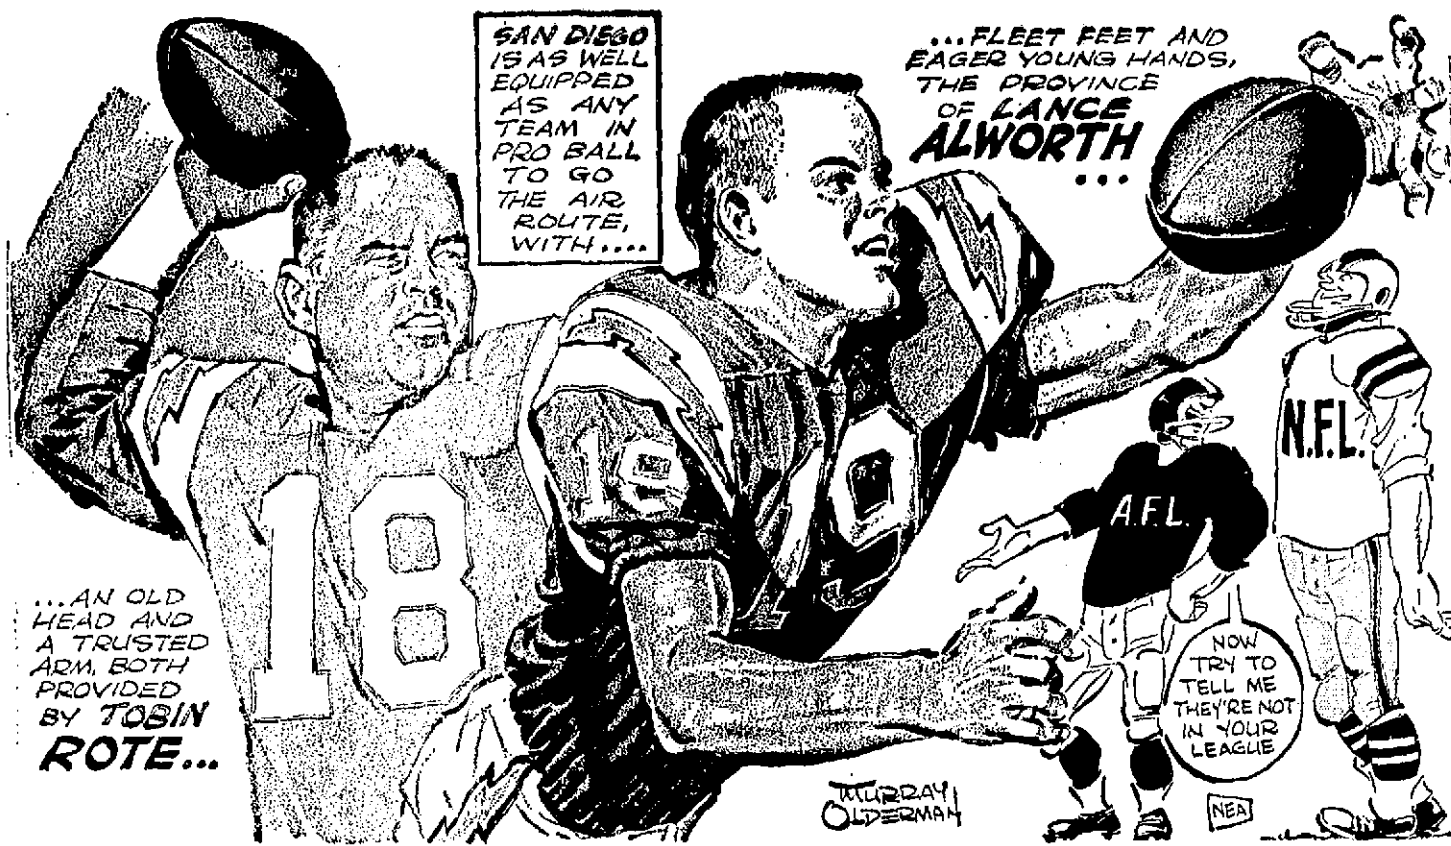

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Harness Racing Commission resumed hearings today into last Friday night's riot at Roosevelt Raceway. The Commission said after the first session Tuesday that the "judges acted with complete propriety" the night of the riot.

Officials of Roosevelt Raceway and Commission officials on duty last Friday testified.

The riot erupted after the sixth race—first one in the twin double — when six of eight horses fell and failed to finish. When the judges ruled the race official, fans swarmed onto the track and did at least $100,000 worth of property damage.

The last three races were canceled.

Hopes Honor Won't Come Too Often

By JIM IRWIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—"I hope he doesn't win this honor too often or we won't even see him out at practice."

That was University of New Mexico Coach Bill Weeks talking about center Eddie Stokes who was named Associated Press Lineman of the Week Tuesday.

Weeks and the mechanical engineering department have an equal-time agreement with Stokes.

The 189-pound Phillips, Tex., native misses the Monday and Friday football practices and half of the Wednesday workouts because of mechanical engineering labs.

Stokes was selected for his outstanding play in New Mexico's 17-6 upset victory over Wyoming.

"I'm really thrilled about this because they told me I wasn't big enough for a college lineman," Stokes said as he walked with reporters to what was left of Tuesday's practice.

The "they" referred to Texas Tech and Oklahoma State—Eddie's first two college choices.

"They told me at Texas Tech and Oklahoma State that I couldn't play in a college line. I just weighed 160 pounds so I came here," he said.

Stokes was the defensive captain who called the signals that limited Wyoming to 181 yards—its lowest total offense of the season — made five unassisted tackles and helped on 10.

In the first quarter he chased down the receiver on a swing pass and pounced on an ensuing fumble on the Wyoming 10. It resulted in New Mexico's first touchdown.

On offense Stokes opened up the middle of the burly Wyoming line permitting fullback Bucky Stallings and tailback Hoe Harris to ramble between the tackles for 162 yards.

Other outstanding nominees including Harvard guard Bill Southmayd, who recovered a fumble to kill Princeton's chance for a tie.

Billy Martin, Georgia Tech end caught nine passes, made six tackles and recovered a fumble against Florida State.

Larry Elkins of Baylor caught 12 passes against Texas and Billy Truax of LSU played an outstanding defensive game against Texas Christian.

Cornell's Pete Gogolak, established a major college conversion record with three against Brown, making it 41 straight.

Justin Canale of Mississippi State kicked a 36-yard field goal that beat Auburn 13-10 with 22 seconds left to play.

The Bears switched away from Leclerc, who made only 13 of 27 last year, and gave the job to Bob Jencks, a rookie from Miami (Ohio) at the start of the season. Jencks made his first but missed nine straight and was one for 10 when Coach George Halas went back to Leclerc. The former Little All-America from Trinity had made 6 of 11. Back in 1961, Leclerc tied the NFL record by kicking five in one game against Detroit.

in scoring. Kramer, who took over the kicking job that Paul Hornung used to handle, has made good on 15 of 25 field goal attempts. You may remember he kicked three last December against New York in the title game despite a 50 mile per hour wind.

Of All Things, a Poe Player Brought Loss

BY HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The paper said a boy named Poe was Harvard's "secret weapon" in beating Princeton last Saturday — Dave Poe, a sophomore back who'd been out with an injury.

Ridiculous! No, incredible, impossible! A Poe playing against Princeton.

Shades of Johnny Poe, Arthur Poe, Johnson Poe, Edgar Allen Poe, Net Poe, Gresham Poe.

For 22 years those Poes played football for Princeton and performed fantastic feats, sometimes against Harvard but more often against Yale. It is assumed this young man will fulfill his obligation when Harvard plays Yale Nov. 23.

Even now on a Princeton football field you might hear echoes of Johnny Poe's "If you won't be beat, you can't be beat." Those words were spoken at halftime during the Harvard game of '96. They have been used to inspire Tiger teams ever since.

With another Yale game coming this week, young Tigers probably will hear of Arthur Poe's run that beat Yale in 1898 and his amazing kick that won in 1899. They're part of football legend, just like Sam White's run or Jake Slagle's, or Dick Kazmaier's more recent feats.

Harvard's Poe isn't quite like the Poes the old grads tell about. He's 6-foot-2 and weighs 175. And he got hurt. The real Poes all were little guys who played when a football team consisted of 11 hard-bitten heroes who let the subs play only if they were totally disabled.

Johnson Poe first played for Princeton in the 1880s. Next was Edgar Allen—named for a great uncle who wrote poetry—who twice was Princeton captain and was the first All-America quarterback. Then came Johnny, the best-remembered of all, who lost his life in the Battle of Loos in 1915. He couldn't wait for the United States to get into the war but joined Britain's famed Black Watch.

After him came eilson (et) for many years coach of the Omelets—those good eggs who got scrambled almost daily scrimmaging against the varsity.

Park May Allow Sports Car Racing

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Fairmount Park Commission was considering a request that sports cars be allowed in the park next summer.

Commission Chairman Fred R. Mann said a similar request was rejected in 1953 because the commission could find no economical way of protecting spectators.

Financier Albert M. Greenfield Jr., a commission member, asked:

"How are you going to pay for this thing?"

"They (the applicants) have rich fathers, like you," Mann said.

"Frankly," Greenfield said, smiling, "I don't believe this is a good thing for the park."

The request by Albert M. Greenfield Jr., treasurer of Road Races, Inc., was denied Tuesday.

Bart Starr Back for Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Veteran quarterback Bart Starr, with the splint removed from his broken right hand, resumed throwing Tuesday as the Green Bay Packers began preparation for their football battle with the Bears at Chicago Sunday.

Starr, missing in the past three games, tossed short and long passes in the touch-football drill. There was no contact work.

Coach Vince Lombardi said was too early to say whether Starr would be able to start against the Bears in the battle for the Western Division lead of the National Football League. Both teams have 8-1 records.

Patterson Signs for Another Fight

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has agreed to fight Sante Amonti of Italy here Jan. 6, to begin his comeback after losing twice to Sonny Liston.

Froehling May Be Lost to Team

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—The United States Davis Cup team may lose Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla. for the challenge round matches against defending Australia.

Froehling, ranked No. 2 in the U.S. will enter a hospital in Melbourne for an examination to determine if an operation is necessary to cure a deep-seated internal abscess.

If the operation is necessary, Froehling will be out three weeks—and probably will not be able to work his way back into shape for the Cup matches at Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

Fight Death Is Investigated

BALTIMORE (AP)—The grand jury investigating the death of boxer Ernie Knox has asked the Johns Hopkins Hospital to produce medical records about treatment given Knox.

Hospital officials must make the records available Thursday. State's Attorney William J. O'Donnell said they involve treatment given Knox in January and February 1961 and in May 1963.

Knox, 26, of Baltimore was knocked out in the ninth round of a heavyweight bout with Wayne Bethea here Oct. 14. He died two days later of a brain hemorrhage.

World Trade Grain Brings Headaches

NEW YORK (AP)—Troubles pile up for American businessmen dealing with foreign competition in domestic and world markets.

But both exports and imports are pushing to new highs.

Neither cold wars nor chicken wars nor a rise in isolation sentiment at home and abroad, has overcome the basic impulse—prosperous times here and in many other parts of the world creating demand for more goods.

U.S. imports dropped in September. But few expect this to be anything but temporary. For the first nine months of the year imports were up 4 per cent over the same period in 1962. Exports were up 3 per cent and still topping imports by a neat margin of nearly $5 billion.

The big gain in world trade leaves plenty of headaches.

American steelmen are bemoaning a rise in steel imports this year from Europe and Japan, with the recent increase in prices here on some products perhaps helping to widen the market for foreign steel.

At the same time the United States is protesting a move in Europe to raise its tariffs on U.S. exports of some other steel products.

Thus, steel takes its place along with frozen chickens on the list of American discontent with the Common Market tariff trends. American poultrymen contend they've lost a better than $40 million annual market by raising of European levies on their products.

American businessmen also are taking their licks in parts of Latin America. Argentina is moving to cancel U.S. oil contracts there, with a potential loss of millions to American companies who have invested in the development of that nation's oil industry.

Trade with Cuba by some of our allies is a political as well as an economic sore point.

The whole American policy of trade with the Communist bloc in Europe is up for reappraisal as a result of Canadian wheat deals, and American negotiations for grain shipments.

In the January through September period imports ran at an annual rate of $17 billion. And federal officials think the demand will go on expanding.

U.S. exports hit an annual rate of $21.9 billion in the same period. And prosperity abroad, plus record holdings there of dollars and gold, should keep the market for Yankee goods and materials healthy.

Philadelphia Fans Proud of Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia fans gloated today over their National Basketball Association team's victory, although it came at the expense of an old Philadelphia favorite—the Warriors.

The Philadelphia 76ers — formerly the Syracuse Nats — defeated the San Francisco — formerly Philadelphia — Warriors 106-102 Tuesday night in an overtime battle between transplants. It was the only game scheduled.

Hal Greer's short jump shot with 33 seconds left in the overtime proved to be the winning points, although Ben Warley sank two free throws in the final eight second for the 76ers.

Near Freezing in Much of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Much of Arkansas had freezing or near-freezing weather today, with prospects of cooler temperatures to come.

The cool snap brought higher winds but no rain to halt the advance of the state's forests toward tinderbox conditions again.

And there was no rain in sight.

The forecast includes a freeze warning for tonight. Skies are expected to be clear to partly cloudy through Thursday. Lows tonight will hit 18 to 24 in the north to around 30 in the south. Thursday will be fair and cold.

Overnight minimums were generally in the 30s, though Gilbert had a low of 23, Harrison 26 and Fayetteville 27. This contrasted with maximums in the mid 60s Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau reported no measurable rainfall during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today.

Leather Is Latest in Coats, Suits

Help her into a leather coat this Christmas morning and you'll get the kiss you deserve. Mist-light and fashion-right, this winter's leather coats, jackets and suits make luxurious gifts, no matter how modest the price tag. Modern leather finishes stay brighter, softer and new-looking longer, keeping the memory of your gift fresh.

To select the right thing at a glance, look for the black-and-gold tag that says "Genuine Leather."

This year, leather apparel is an integral part of the fashion picture, reflecting the relaxed look of suburban living. In smooth and suede leather coats, straight silhouettes follow but do not cling to body lines. A-lines flare out gracefully.

Individual fashion touches include unusual buttons or closings, and varied neckline treatments. Deep countryside shades, vivid hues and muted tones cover the color scene.

For added warmth and fashion accent, select a coat with a shearing (wool on leather) lining dyed in a contrasting color.

Among the smartest leather jackets and separates — skirts, blouses, cardigans. Supple and sensitive to the feminine figure, suede leather is equally at home in town or country, ideal for suburban afternoons.

Combinations of suede and knit or suede and wool suits lend casual elegance to the stylish wearer.

Grained leather car coats and pea jackets with zip-out pile linings will give her ease while driving, and fashion when she reaches her destination. Roomy pockets hold keys, a scarf, small change, etc.

There's a festive look to an all-white soft cabretta great coat featuring an allover design of gold embroidery and seed pearls. Just right for any dressy occasion, she'll adore wearing it New Year's Eve to welcome in a high fashion year ahead.

Because they are light in weight, yet water-repellent and windproof, these handsome leather beauties will go from winter right into spring to bring her many months of joy.

She will get more wear out of her new leather coat because it cleans easily—smooth leather can be sponged, suede leather is dry cleanable.

Hand Her Gloves for Christmas

Here's a tip for Santa: Put fashion at her finger tips this Christmas with a gift of lovely leather gloves.

Fashions in gloves go to every length this winter, so you can't go wrong no matter which length you select. And, you'll find hundreds of styles and colors in smooth or finely grained kid leather, soft suede and doeskin leathers and textured pigskins.

Since most coats end between the wrist and the elbow this year, your gift will be welcome whether it's a six-button kid gauntlet, an eight-button doeskin musketeer or a 12-button elbow-length glove.

Though most leather gloves will depend on their soft, supple elegance for fashion effect, some styles feature a thin strip of fur at the wrists, contrasting leather lacing around the cuffs, or contrasting color stitching on the fingers.

If, after all these years, you still don't know her glove size, get her a pair of the new leather stretch gloves that fit most women.

The leather glove color range covers all the shades in winter's fashion spotlight such as cranberry, winter blue, bright gold, pine needle, and all tones of brown and beige from bitter chocolate to bone.

In the evening, when the full-length glove lends formal grace to an evening ensemble, leather gloves — smooth or suede — are smart in either white or black. Frequently, a white glove has black beading or other detailing and vice versa.

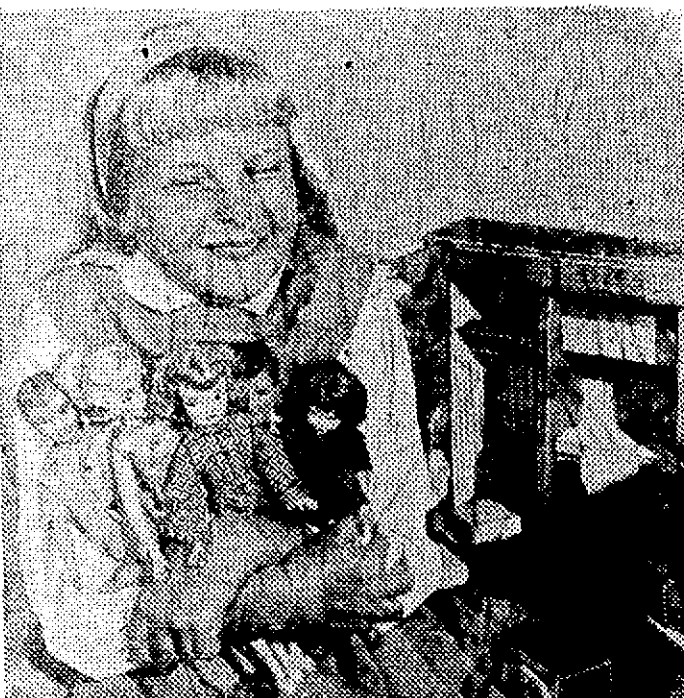

For the suburbanite and sportswoman, pigskin gloves complete a casual ensemble. For sure, frost-free control of her car wheel, select gloves of smooth or textured leather lined in wool.

You can make your door into a huge Christmas package by pinning wide strips of red satin material to all four sides, and drawing them together into a great bow, adding ornaments and holly for color contrast.

Whatever the materials you decide upon for your decorations, make sure they are sturdy and can be fastened securely. If your entrance is unprotected, weatherproof your designs with a coating of clear shellac or use water-resistant materials such as oilcloth.

HIS AND HERS: Color matched bowling equipment and accessories include ball, bag and shoes. Each may be purchased separately, or there is a female ensemble and a male ensemble. Whatever the choice, color-coordinated bowling equipment is sure to score at Christmas!

GIVE A DOLL A GIRL! What else could you give the doll Tammy than a real little girl — because Tammy has everything. She has a Mom, Dad, little sister Pepper and brother Ted. She has lots of clothes and a beautiful room of her own with to-scale furniture and accessories.

IT'S EASIER TO ENTERTAIN when the hostess can prepare party dishes and family foods in advance and have plenty of room to store them in a modern electric refrigerator-freezer such as the unit shown here.

Red Tape Holds Up Aid to Peru Poor

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The United States seems to have missed a good chance to help the poorest people of Peru because of red tape, plus what South Americans consider an overdeveloped "banker mentality" in Washington.

The $10-million incident is small by comparison with overall U.S. assistance to Peru, which in the past two years has amounted to about $150 million with more to come. But it is important because the new government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry seems determined to move fast on reform and development programs.

The question is whether the United States can move fast also.

A few weeks ago Belaunde asked the United States for a pick and shovel loan of $10 million. He said he wanted to buy simple hand tools for the millions of Indian peasants in the mountainous interior of the country. He laid out a plan to set up 144 tool lending centers—one in each county seat.

Everyone agrees these simple tools are the things the Indians need most—to dig ditches for water supply, to build roads, to cultivate the land. Most have only primitive wooden digging sticks and short-handled wooden hoes.

U.S. officials here hope Belaunde's goal of raising the living standards of the Indians and integrating them into modern economic life can be realized. The Indians, about half Peru's 10 million population, are illiterate and poverty-stricken.

Belaunde first put his proposal before U.S. aid agency officials. They pointed out that the United States already had approved a limited roadbuilding plan, including a supply of bulldozers and similar heavy machinery, which would serve as a pilot project for an expanded program.

It takes an average of about two years to get approval for a new proposal, and Belaunde was asked to wait and see how the pilot project worked out.

Belaunde, a man in a hurry, turned to the export-import bank. He felt that the roadbuilding machines would not serve his broader purposes of improving farm production and water supply through self-help methods. Also it would cover only about five of his 144 rural

American Cardinals Clash Openly

By GERALD I. MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP)—American cardinals at the Vatican Ecumenical Council clashed openly with each other today on a controversial proposal to enable national Roman Catholic bishops' conferences to deal more closely with the Pope.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles denounced a move to give such conferences juridical powers and said he saw in such efforts "an indirect attack against papal infallibility."

Joseph Elmer Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis and Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago spoke in favor of the proposal centers.

"The bank said it would finance the purchase of machinery, but not of tools," Belaunde told The Associated Press.

Bank officials said shovels, picks, hoes and crowbars which could be lost or stolen did not constitute a good risk.

Belaunde looked elsewhere. "We have not arranged for a $10-million loan from Finland for the tools," he said, "and we plan to set up the 144 pools of farm implements which will be available to the peasants."

contained in a schema on bishops and diocesan government.

The proposal would have the effect of decentralizing the administrative power now held by the Vatican Curia. Reform of that body, which is the government of the Roman Catholic Church, is a major issue before the 2,300 council fathers meeting in St. Peter Basilica.

The debate involving three of America's five princes of the Church was disclosed to newsmen by a council press spokesman who paraphrased their remarks.

Cardinal McIntyre renewed strong opposition he first expressed last month when he said that juridical power for bishops' conferences could endanger the unity of the Church.

In his attack today, he said bishops should not be forced to belong to such conferences. He added that these conferences, if created, should deal only with local problems and have no juridical power.

At present, there are 47 such national and regional episcopal conferences around the world. While they bring national groups of bishops together, their decisions are not binding on the prelates. The schema would make such decisions mandatory under certain circumstances.

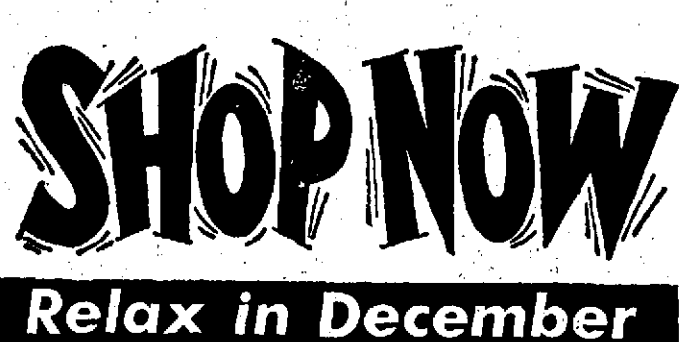

Cardinal Ritter said episcopal conferences would lend strength and unity to the individual bishops, help ease over-centralization and promote "genuine in-

Shoes Make a Grand Gift for Dad or for the Son

He'll jump for joy if you give him a pair of leather shoes this Christmas. That's because this winter, leather casuals are constructed of new leathers which combine durability with softness. The cold weather leather casual shoe gives him the ease and walking comfort of summer months — as well as the ruggedness he needs and wants during the winter.

For a holiday romp with the children, he'll appreciate the suppleness and support of a brushed leather chukka boot. Set on a substantial leather sole that absorbs punishment like a sponge, the leather chukka flexes, bends and stretches as he runs with the youngsters. At the same time, the ankle-high boot keeps wind and weather outside the shoe, and his feet warm and dry inside.

Another leather casual that gives him a foothold on comfort during the cold months is the smooth or grained leather slip-on. Usually rising high on the topline, this casual is light without sacrificing protection.

Leather moccasins make a welcome gift at any season — and for good reason. Glove-soft but rugged leathers, roomy toes and foot-hugging topline, make moccasins as easy as slippers. Slim leather soles add little weight, but offer protection and support on hardwood floors and concrete pavements.

For dress wear during the holiday season, he'll be in step with fashion in leather brogues with medium weight leather soles that are built for support yet cropped for smart styling. Smooth or grained leather brogues come in rounded, crescent or blunted - square toe styles, moccasin fronts or wing-tip-and-foxing.

On a winter vacation or just at home with the family, a pair of dressy slip-ons set a tone of ease and fashion. Hand-stitched seams and deeply notched vamps contribute to the snap and style of the dress slip-on.

This year's darkened men's shoe colors contribute to the slimmer look of the foot. Most popular are the new burnished olive — a black with green — woody browns and glossy black leathers. Subtle grained leather and smooth leather pick up the lighter textures of men's suits, while brushed leather complements heavier textured sports slacks.

If you're uncertain about his shoe size check his closet and jot down the numbers printed on the linings of his favorite shoes. The clerk at your local shoe or department store will be able to select the proper size from this information.

If you'd rather have him choose his own style and color, a handsome, personalized shoe gift certificate is sure to delight him.

Young women's gift choices are sure to include compacts, jeweled earrings and pins, clips and rings. Gifts of jewelry make any woman seem prettier — and younger.

COMFORT FOR HIM begins with flexible leather casual slip-ons and house shoes. The shoe on hand has a band of elasticated leather around the top for a snug fit, and neat slim leather soles for a dressy appearance. The sunken deer-skin house shoes have cushioned leather insoles.

Ladies Love Those Soft Slippers

Give Christmas the soft touch this year with comfortable leather slippers. A thoughtful gift of soft, elegant suede or glove leather slippers will pamper and please every man, woman, and child on your holiday list.

Your choice this winter ranges from soft ankle-hugging leather boots that are suitable for both indoor and outdoor wear to slippers designed chiefly for the path between the refrigerator and the easy chair.

Gift footwear for people who prefer to view the wintry scene from behind a windowpane boast high fashion and a high degree of comfort.

For the girls there are leather slippers or mules in colorful, lavish fashions. Some are beautifully embossed in gold or silver. Others are embroidered in floral designs.

A harlequin slipper is made up of bright leathers in diamond shapes. Its corners turn back and are fastened down with tiny silver bells or gay gold pins.

The court jester's slipperboot of soft-leather reaches to the ankle where it is gathered in with a band of jewels, fur or a leather thong.

A new idea in women's slippers is a leather lining in an even brighter shade than the slipper itself, such as geranium lined with turquoise, yellow with citron, and scarlet with bright pink.

Men's easy slippers also come in a variety of styles. These are leather-lined, low-cut opera slippers in glossy smooth leather for wear with an elegant dressing gown.

For the man who prefers casual dress at home, glove leather moccasin slippers are available in a variety of colors and styles. One popular moccasin features a folded back, stitched down tongue.

Another happy Christmas thought is a pair of soft leather travel slippers that tuck into each other. Wherever he wears them, they'll remind him of hearth and home.

And, don't forget the children. Their slippers should be bright in color, high cut, to make it hard to pull them off, and with resilient leather soles and uppers to help support growing muscles.

Brightly colored leathers and leather linings attract youngsters and make them want to wear their slippers — not trot about barefoot on drafty floors.

GOPs Aim at Johnson's Home

AUSTIN, Tex (AP)—Texas' 10th Congressional District — which Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson represented for many years — will be the target of a Republican drive to gain another seat in the House.

In the mid-December runoff election Republican Jim Dobbs, 38, will face Democrat J. J. (Jackie) Pickle, 49, for the seat vacated by Homer Thornberry, a Democrat who resigned to accept a federal judgeship.

Art Inspires Fashions for the Girls

The spirit of the Christmas season once flowed throughout the world from the home of a slight, shy English woman who has been all but forgotten by the world to which she gave so much.

Her name was Kate Greenaway, a noted artist of another century whose works inspired the habits, clothing and feeling of her day, not only in England but in America and on the Continent as well.

Miss Greenaway, born in 1846, began copying after her father, a wood engraver, in her early years. By the time she was 17 she won her first art prize — a bronze medal for six ceramic tile designs. Soon to follow were magazine sketches; children's books with both verses and sketches by Miss Greenaway; almanacs and, for six or seven years, a multitude of Christmas cards that vaulted her into great popularity.

Children, and especially their clothing, were Miss Greenaway's favorite art subjects. By 1883, when a "Kate Greenaway Broom" was in full sway, children on both sides of the Atlantic were dressed in styles inspired by her designs, which included ruffles, frills and laces for little girls; and rougher-brown knickers, jackets and suits for boys.

The designs were so popular that they were reproduced on many items including calendars and carols; in books and on decorative ceramic tiles used to surface the facings and mantels of large English fireplaces; much as decorated American tiles are used on fireplaces today.

Miss Greenaway died in November, 1901, still a quiet and unassuming woman who nevertheless had become England's most famous woman artist. Today there are occasional mentions of her in collectors' and antique journals, but a New York dress shop that sells children's clothing patterned after her designs is the lone "living" reminder of her great talents.

Dolls Have Many New Talents

The world of dolls abounds with astonishing new talents, all keyed to making it more difficult than ever to differentiate dolls from real children.

Star performers this Yuletide are the new contingent of baby dolls whose behavior almost exactly reproduces the muscular virtuosity of infants and toddlers and most of the human babies, repertoire of sound effects as well.

The muscular activity of the baby is reproduced with fascinating realism by a new infant doll prototype. When this accomplished cherub sucks on her bottle she squirms and wriggles in a manner modeled exactly after real baby movements. There's a doll that laughs when tickled and another that cries when spanked.

A real surprise for even experienced connoisseurs of the modern playroom phenomenon — the doll conversationalist — is a new pram, wired so that when the doll mother pulls a cord the doll in the pram starts chattering without being touched at all.

Another addition to new doll accomplishments in the vocal area is the inclusion of foreign languages in the doll conversational repertoire. One newcomer doll's accessories include records in six languages besides English and a wardrobe suited to travel in foreign lands, as well as more mundane social occasions at home.

The family concept has gained ground in the world of dolls this Yuletide season. There are more mama and papa dolls and teenage male dolls are included in several family sets.

The teen dolls have highly realistic accessories including telephones, hi-fi sets, and sports outfits. The sportive look currently favored in adult fashions is echoed in the fashion doll world, too.

Bulky knit sweaters and stretch pants, for examples, are "in" and so are boots. The dressed doll will have at-home costumes, long formal evening dresses and even a collection of wigs.

A variety of character dolls add a touch of fantasy in intriguing contrast to the detailed realism of the dolls modeled after members of the average family.

Episcopal Church in Conference

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bishops of the Episcopal Church start discussions today which they hope will lead to a major statement of policy on church unity.

Bishop Nelson M. Burroughs of Cleveland, Episcopal bishop of Ohio and acting chairman of the church's House of Bishops, predicted at a news conference yesterday that such a statement will come out of this meeting, the first the House of Bishops has ever held in Arkansas.

Burroughs said the Episcopal Church has long been a leader in the ecumenical (unity) movement. "But we need to spell out how far we are willing to go to achieve unity," he said. "We will try here to get a consensus of the beliefs of our own bishops."

Any decision by the House of Bishops will not be binding on the church unless it is accepted by the House of Delegates at next year's General Convention in St. Louis.

"But what we decide here will carry weight at the convention," Burroughs said.

The bishops also will discuss the role of the church in the world.

The goal of the unity movement, Burroughs said, is a merging of all Christian churches into a universal church.

He said Episcopalians recognized the "scandal of disunity" as long ago as 1886 when the Episcopal Church spelled out its terms for church merger in the pronouncement now known as the "Chicago Quadrilateral."

These terms included recognition of the Nicene Creed as the statement of the Christian faith and acceptance of the "historic episcopate," which means a ministerial hierarchy of bishops, priests and deacons.

Now, Burroughs said, the Episcopal Church sees a need for reinterpretation of some of these terms.

Bishops at the meeting here represent the 3.5 million members of the Episcopal Church of the United States, which is one of 18 churches in the Anglican Communion. About 130 of the church's 140 active and 50 retired bishops have registered. The meeting runs through Friday.

Burroughs said an offshoot of the interchurch unity movement has been a move toward greater unity among members of the Anglican Communion.

Burroughs said the unity dis-

GIVE STURDY TOYS, say child psychologists, because children become emotionally attached to them and will find much more satisfaction in the toy that lasts. cussions will be in executive session and no statement will be made until Friday.

If a sufficiently firm policy is adopted, he said, the bishops probably will push for its acceptance at the General Convention.

This is the first time the House of Bishops has met in Arkansas. The agenda for this special meeting was set at a regular meeting last year in Columbia, S.C., and the Rt. Rev. Robert Brown, bishop of Arkansas, invited the group to Little Rock.

Brown said the church-world relationship discussion will be directed toward better understanding of how the layman feels and what motivates him.

"The church has created pockets of sanctity and invited the world to come in," he said. "We now realize the church must go into the world because God is in the world."

Silver holloware — tea sets, bowls, dishes, trays — reflects the good taste of the giver as few gifts can. Because today's silverware is the focal point of fashion in the home, the factor of style judgment in selection can make for the most happiness all around, regardless of intrinsic value or price alone.

PSC Wants More Testimony

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. told the Arkansas Public Service Commission today that the PSC should hear from the Howie Lumber Co. of Wabash before it decides a territorial dispute in Phillips County.

The Rural Telephone Co. of Elaine asked the PSC recently to make Bell stop serving the lumber company and its employees from Bell's exchange at Helena.

Rural said the lumber company was in Rural's service area and Rural was ready to provide service out of its Elaine exchange.

Bell said in an answer filed with the PSC today that Howie had refused to discontinue its Bell service and that the lumber company should be asked to become a co-responder in the case before the matter is decided.

Toys Predict Many Things, Generally About the Future

Jayces Award to a Policeman

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Steve Bassett, a Forrest City policeman, has been named recipient of the Arkansas Junior Chamber of Commerce physical fitness award.

Bassett received the honor for his work in developing a boy's boxing program at Forrest City. He spends three hours a day coaching 130 boys in an old theater which has been converted into a gymnasium.

Other state finalists were Jon Larry Starr of Fayetteville, Mrs. Mary Lou Jaworski of Little Rock, James Queeney of Texarkana, Richard Meredith of Crossett and Albert Alexander of Pine Bluff.

Bassett was named for the state honor by a team of sports writers headed by Bob Burnes of the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

He will compete with 49 other state winners for one of 12 national awards.

Work on Dam Starts

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Construction of a 10-mile dam to create a 530-acre lake on the old bed of the St. Francis River is scheduled to begin this week.

For years, toys used to be miniatures of things used in the adult world. This Christmas, many are scaled-down versions of the world of tomorrow.

On a stroll through toyland for example, you'll see the "Wing Thing." This bat-like flying device has a 52 inch wingspread and is 36 inches long. Children can fly it like a kite, or under power from its small gasoline engine. It climbs to about 300 feet, and when the engine runs out of fuel, it continues to swoop and soar before returning gently to earth.

The "Wing Thing" is actually the smaller version of something called a flexwing, which will help return our astronauts from outer space in Project Gemini. Significantly, the toy version is available for children before the astronauts have the real thing.

If your imagination has been captured by predictions of automated highway systems, take a look at Autorama. Little cars travel on complex highway systems with turn-offs and cloverleafs — all by remote control.

And there's even a remote The dam will impound winter rains and the lake is expected to be filled sufficiently for fishing by spring.

control car thrill show with the "Fly-Over Chicane." The little cars race up a ramp, hurtle off into space, change lanes in mid-air, land safely on the other side, and keep on going.

Even that old standby the Erector set has turned toward the future in 1963. Redesigned for the first time in 50 years, the perennial favorite now boasts a motor that can be pre-programmed to perform several different functions in sequence.

The addition of streamlined gliders, solid-color panels and plastic domes make it possible for boys to build working models of planetary probes, lunar vehicles and other space exploration devices still on the drawing boards of space engineering firms.

And if science fascinates you, there's a new chemistry set called "Chemistry of the Space Age." It provides for growing plants space-ship style, without soil, using artificial plant nutrients.

It also contains atomic-irradiated bean seeds for would-be Jacks-in-the-Beanstalks. While the bean plants may never get quite that tall, they will give you a sample of what may develop into whole new varieties of plants.

With these and many more playthings, it's the Spirit of Christmas Future that's making fantasy come true in toyland this year.

Can't Be too Careful on Holidays

Longer hours of darkness, more pedestrian activity, signs sometimes covered by snow, slippery streets and the excitement of shopping can lead to traffic accidents that many take the cheer out of your holiday.

December is filled with pre-Christmas activities that include shopping trips, drives to friends' homes, visiting relatives in other cities and many last-minute errands.

It is the most dangerous months for motor-vehicle deaths and every year avoidable accidents spoil many holiday celebrations.

With longer hours of darkness and heavier traffic the danger to both drivers and pedestrians is greatly increased. Whenever possible, night driving should be avoided and shopping excursions and trips to other cities should take place during the safer daylight hours.

In many parts of the country, bad weather makes streets and highways extremely hazardous during the holiday season. Motorists should try to stay on main highways and turnpikes and avoid back roads that are warning devices, such as reflective road signs, adequate lighting and highway markings.

Many people driving to other parts of the country, to be with families and friends, encounter weather conditions to which they are unaccustomed. It is always a good idea to check the weather and make sure your automobile is equipped for bad weather driving.

Ways to Use Seals at Christmas

Everyone is eager to use Christmas seals on envelopes and packages at Christmas-time because they know that by using them they are helping a most worthy cause. However, it is possible to put those seals to other decorative uses as well.

Why not decorate your tree with Christmas Seals... the design for this year is colorful, as always, and will provide a wonderful touch.

For instance, you might try taping a row of seals around the center of your solid-color bulbs as an attractive trim.

Or, you can cut bulb shapes out of cardboard, cover them with seals and hang them with string on branches for unique, colorful ornaments.

If you're really ambitious, try designing a Christmas scene on a poster board with seals, to create an unusual holiday decoration.

Indicate a simple drawing scaping.

Donation to a friend's favorite charity in your friend's name.

Sweatshirt bearing a crazy slogan to a teenage boy.

They All Plan to Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—All four Arkansas members of the House of Representatives have made statements indicating they will seek another term.

Rep. Wilbur Mills of Kensett said he would like to stay in Congress "another two years, if the people will have me."

Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado has let it be known his plans include nothing except a return to Congress and Rep. E. C. Gathings of West Memphis said flatly he would like to remain in Congress.

The fourth representative, James W. Trimble of Berryville has also indicated he will run again, although he has made no statements.

For a romantic-looking gift, paste a paper doily in center of package that has already been wrapped; cut second doily to fit corners of box.

with a holiday theme, such as a reindeer or an angel, in pencil, then follow the outlines with seals. Place seals along border of your design to frame it. Set in one of your windows or over the mantel for an eye-catching display.

When wrapping, instead of tying ribbons around some of your gifts, try outlining a ribbon and bow with seal for an attractive design. For best effect, use a solid-color paper that matches any of the colors in this year's seal.

You may think of other ways of using Christmas seals in holiday decorations... do use them!

Seed Export Talk Up at Right Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—Talk of possible exports of oilseeds—mainly soybeans—and vegetable oils and fats to the Soviet Union and other Soviet bloc countries has bobbed up at the right time for farmers.

The Soviet sunflower crop—a major source of vegetable oils for the Communists—is believed to be down along with wheat, due to dry and hot weather last summer.

Commenting on the possible export, the Agriculture Department said in a report that price bullishness has developed at a time when U.S. oilseeds, fats and oils marketings are the heaviest and prices normally are at their seasonal lows.

The report said it appears that producer prices of soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts and flaxseed have moved to a slightly higher plateau and likely will continue strong throughout the 1963-64 marketing year.

Total supplies of edible fats, oils and oilseeds during the year are forecast at a record 17 billion pounds, in terms of oil, or about 3 per cent more than the peak quality available last year.

Exports are expected to set a record of 4.9 billion pounds in terms of oil.

But despite a heavy domestic and export demand for soybeans and for soybean meal, it appears likely, the department said, that stocks of soybean oil will increase this marketing year.

It is possible that unused stocks of soybean oil next Oct. 1 will be 15 per cent larger than the record extra supply on the like date this year.

Soybean prices in October averaged $2.56 a bushel compared with the price support rate of $2.25. Soybean exports during the current sales year are expected by the department to total at least 190 million bushels compared with 180 million in the year just ended. The crop has been estimated at 727 million bushels.

The department said western Europe will be buying more soy beans to get meal needed for its expanding livestock industry.

Harried homemakers need all the help they can get during the holiday season. One way a thoughtful husband can lend a hand without lifting a finger is by presenting his wife with a new automatic electric range just before Christmas.

LADY LIKE is the look of this full length robe with embroidery and lace trim. It's a wonderful fashion for the woman who loves luxury at every hour of the day. The fabric of Enke nylon is soft to the touch and outstandingly wash-and-wear. This exquisite robe can be worn belted or flowing. It's a gift that's sure to please any one of the ladies on your list.

HIS FIRST CAMERA and a memorable Christmas! The small, light camera shown here is a good choice because a pre-loaded film cartridge is simply dropped in and clicked into position. A child can load, aim and shoot in just seconds. It takes color prints and slides as well as black and white. Tag junior's camera gift "Open Me First."

Beware of Shoplifters and Thieves When Shopping

Unfortunately, as soon as Christmas shopping begins in earnest, shoplifters and petty thieves turn out in full force.

There are several things you can do to prevent being the victim of theft.

First step: When you arrive at a store, be sure you lock your car.

Once inside the store, keep a firm hold on your purse at all times. Never set it down on the counter out of your direct sight. (It's smart to carry a shoulder strap bag when shopping—stylish, or not).

Men would be wise to put their billfold in the inside pocket of their coat. If it is carried in the hip pocket of slacks, be sure the pocket is buttoned.

Women should carry a handbag that closes tightly at the top. Open-top bags are a real invitation to thieves.

When paying for a purchase, be careful in showing how much cash you are carrying, especially if it is a considerable amount.

It's wise, too, to check your purse or pocket every few minutes to make sure you have your wallet. The sooner you report a theft, or loss, the better your chances are for having the item recovered.

If you will put all of your packages into one or two large sacks or shopping bags, it will be easier to keep up with them. Small packages, especially, have a way of disappearing.

These suggestions are good ones to follow at any time of the year, but do be extra cautious now when stores are so crowded.

Rice Farmers to Vote on Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has set Dec. 10 as the date for rice farmers to vote on marketing quotas for the 1964 crop.

The department also set the 1964 national production allotment at 1,818,166 acres, unchanged from last year.

The quotas limit sales to what a grower produces on his acreage allotment. Quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers who vote in the referendum.

Last year's quotas were favored by 87.8 per cent of the voters.

Thinks New Method to Aid Slow Students

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Education Commissioner Arch W. Ford predicted today that a new program to help children with learning disabilities will soon be recognized as a "tremendously significant development in education."

Ford is a charter member of the Arkansas Association For Children With Learning Disabilities, formed Sunday in Little Rock with J. T. Caplinger of England as president.

Ford said research indicates 20 per cent of the children in the average school have some kind of perceptual or other minor disability which can be helped by trained personnel.

"I was astounded to learn that one fifth of our children have this kind of problem," Ford said.

Ford said this program is logically one which should be placed in the public schools.

"These children are not retarded," he said. "Some of them have above average intelligence but they are unable to learn for one reason or another."

The association will attempt to alert the public and educators to the problem and then interest schools in establishing programs for these children.

"One of the major problems," Ford said, "is that parents and teachers often do not recognize the difficulty and instead of assisting the child, actually contribute to the frustration caused by his problem."

Ford said state Rep. Jack Onkes of Woodruff County was instrumental in getting a $20,000 annual appropriation for research into this problem.

This research is being done at the University Medical Center in Little Rock by Drs. Sam D. Clements and John E. Peters.

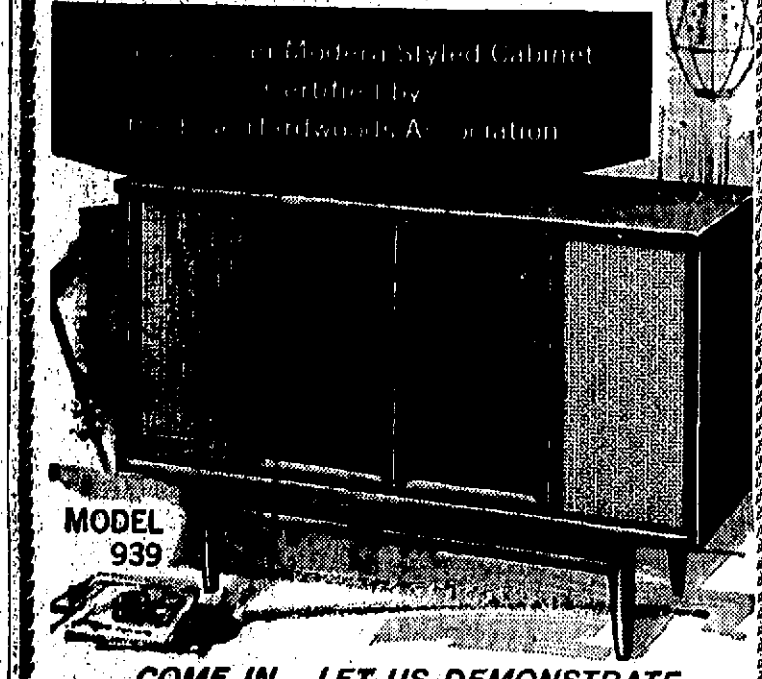

Ford said their research had, for example, found a child with a basic intelligence quotient of 120 who was in the fifth grade but reading at the second grade level.

"These children are behind and I believe the fact that they get behind and stay there is a major contributing factor in the drop-out problem," Ford said. "This is fundamental and if we're going to solve the drop-out problem, we must get to the fundamental. Gimmicks won't solve it."

She'd Love a Bag in Leather

This year Santa digs down deep and comes up with the bag — a handsome leather handbag to warm the heart of any woman on Christmas morning.

Whether it's a tote, satchel, clutch or box, a fashionable leather handbag is always a welcome gift. And in this year of leather, the selection is greater than ever.

Best of all, the new handbags have a rich look, thanks to fresh new colors and a variety of leather tannages — grained, smooth, waxy, suede and antiqued, among others.

With larger sizes making handbag headlines, a thoughtful gift would be a spacious leather satchel, pouch or box bag with room for all the paraphernalia essential to the modern woman.

Grained, brushed, antiqued and the new waxy leathers are seen most often in this style, with fashion touches leaning toward brass hardware, single or double leather straps, and multi-color combinations.

If you would rather your Christmas gift had a dressy touch, in keeping with the festive season, there are trim smooth and suede leather handbags with a slimmer, smaller silhouette.

Highlighted with brushed gold closings, flat little bows or chain handles, these dressy daytime bags are a cinch to be put to immediate use for some special holiday event.

You'll find a full palette of colors from which to choose, with many brown tones and deep greens and reds most prominent. Neutral shades such as taupe and fog grey, and the natural look of waxy and antiqued leather tannages, are also popular and sure to please.

For cocktail and evening wear, she'll cherish a pretty clutch or small envelope with a soft, wrinkle-free leather lining. These after-dark handbags of smooth, lustre and suede leather are sometimes starkly simple, and may be sparked with a touch of jewelry.

If she thinks you've been extravagant, you can magnanimously point out the lasting qualities of leather, and how easily she can clean smooth, grained, antiqued and waxy leathers with a damp cloth — making your gift a "practical luxury."

Mrs. Nhu in Another Trip Delay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, battling exhaustion, has delayed a flight to Rome and a reunion with her three younger children.

Mrs. Nhu had planned to leave today for Rome, then either return to South Viet Nam directly or via Los Angeles, an informed source said.

South Viet Nam's former First Lady had said in private that she believes many of the ruling junta which overthrew her family's regime are still on her side, according to a source close to her.

She believes if she can return to Saigon before the first general election under the new regime she can regain support, the source said.

Mrs. Nhu had been vacillating for days over whether to bring the children, ages 15, 11 and 4 to Los Angeles or to meet them in Rome, said an aide.

She decided to leave for Rome today, but Monday night found herself unable to go on, the aide said.

A doctor said she was suffering from excessive fatigue, according to the aide.

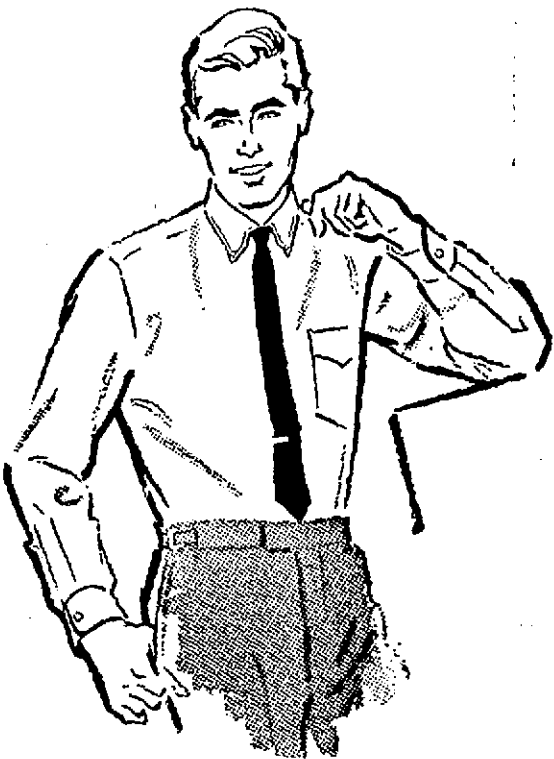

When shopping for a watch handsome styling and individuality are likely to be as important as accuracy to the wearer. And so great is the variety in watches this Christmas that only the trained jeweler can point out the merits and suitability of each one.
